

Joely

Meet our Assistant Therapist

Hello, my name is Joely, and I am the Assistant Therapist here at bibic.

I began working for bibic in September 2021 as a Family Services Coordinator and came over to the therapy team as an Assistant Therapist in May 2023.

I am here to support families and our Therapists in any and every way I can. You may see me on the therapy floor providing fun activities for the children and young adults coming to our centre, helping ease the worry coming into a new environment can cause, or in the office supporting our Therapists. I like being a person someone can lean on and rely on. Within my role, I always aim to support in any way I can and to be an ear for families. Becoming the Assistant Therapist allows me to have a positive impact on the families experience in a closer setting.

The morals and values bibic stands by align with mine personally, and how we support in any way we can makes what bibic does special and important to be a part of.

I love that bibic always aims to be there for families throughout the wait for an assessment. We have so much support in place before families come to the centre, from our free support and advice line to our live Q&A's, training sessions, and more.

I have been a Mental Health First Aider for the team here at bibic since August 2022 and recently became the lead within this. Supporting my colleagues is something that is in my nature. We care so much for the families coming to bibic. It is so important to look after ourselves as well.

To any families looking for support or waiting to see us, please know you are not alone; we are just a phone call away, and we are here to support you.